

Bigger is Better!

by Rick Rothstein

Ice Bowl 2005's goal for charity was to raise $100,000, which was $13,000 more than last year's record effort. The 183 tournaments, which were held in 45 states, six Canadian provinces, and three countries in Europe not only drew a record 7,028 players, but produced an astounding and record smashing $128,036—over 47 percent more than last year. The Saint Cloud Disc Golf Club and the Charlotte Disc Golf Club anchored this year's fundraising (see sidebars); both became the first Ice Bowls ever to surpass $10K and accounted for nearly 20 percent of the entire total. Saint Cloud, besides raising the most money ever for an Ice Bowl, also held the coldest Ice Bowl of the year, when the temperature averaged -5°. In addition to these two stellar events, there was a record number (30) of other events that donated $1,000 or more, including first time Ice Bowls in Tallahassee, Upper Sandusky, Memphis, and Honolulu.

The Ice Bowl is not only about raising money for charity, but is also about having fun while doing it. In fact, we suggest that TDs try to ratchet down the competition a notch, and many did. Mulligans were for sale at many venues, and a couple of events introduced the RIPT card game, as well as other fun-producing kinks into their formats. A communal meal (often featuring chili) remained quite common, as did an assortment of games, contests, auctions, and just silliness, such as the silly hat contest in Winnipeg. Closest to the beer is becoming quite popular on the East Coast.

There are, of course, ulterior motives behind raising money for local charities. Foremost is a chance for clubs to connect to their communities in a positive way and to garner some attention from the media for their good deeds. More TDs than ever sent out news releases with positive results. Those who get Google news alerts noted a surge of articles during Ice Bowl season.

With a rule that prevents postponements or cancellations, the weather is always of interest during the Ice Bowl. This year, the weather was weird and perverse. Overall, it was warmer with less snow than usual, which resulted in lots of events mentioning mud, cold, freezing rain, and sleet. The comment from Yorktown, New York on weekend #1 was: "Cold rain; lousy, lousy, lousy; heavy rain all day," but that Ice Bowl still collected $1,000. The Northeast received the brunt of the real winter weather. During weekend #2, an approaching blizzard caused the cancellation of the night round in Athol, Massachusetts. The next weekend produced ice storms for Toccoa, Georgia and Fairmont, West Virginia, which reported the worst weather of the year. West Milford, New Jersey finished up as a blizzard was getting started. Out west, Arvada, Colorado had to cancel its First Annual Downhill Putting Contest because there was no snow, and in fact, the temperature reached 60°. Last year in Dickinson, North Dakota, they played a temporary hole on a 20-foot high snow bank that had been created from snow removed from public streets. This year, there was no snow on the ground.

Here are a few vignettes as reported from some Ice Bowls.

Durango featured a "never-ever" division for those who had never played in a tournament before. Reportedly, all three participants are now hooked on the game.

Lubbock made a bid to get more players involved by featuring triples, where one player had to be new. There were 12 teams.

Memphis raised a very impressive $1,304 in its first Ice Bowl. Much of that money came from a unique opportunity that was advertised on the flyer, "Unlimited mulligans at $5 apiece (all for charity). You wanna buy your first ever win? Go ahead and dump your dough for charity." The TD reported that it was a LOT of fun watching folks miss putts and shell out dollars.

The Melbourne Ice Bowl has a tradition of throwing wrinkles into its playing formats. This year, during the second round, at least one shot was mandated on 13 of the holes. For example, players were instructed to use a fore-hand drive on #1, opposite hand putting on #4, turbo putt #8, a left hand drive on #12, etc.

Edgcomb, Maine was the site of a very successful first time Ice Bowl, where Kim Gray of Basket Case Links raised $330 and nearly 600 pounds of food, had 14 different articles in four newspapers, was on local cable for a week of ads, and had players playing three-legged doubles in 12 inches of snow with the temperature topping out at 10°. Though only two teams actually finished, for all 16 contestants, "high spirits and laughter prevailed," according to one of the newspaper articles. Other activities featured closest-to-the-beer and closest-to-the-soda contests.

To celebrate the spirit of Ice Bowl in Calgary, it was announced that anyone who whined would have to put $1.00 in the whiner jar, and immediately afterwards announced that the players would have to drive twice with their opposite hand. Boom! There was an immediate collection of $10. Only five bucks was collected the rest of the day, not a huge moneymaker, but a spirit-lifter, nonetheless.

News releases were issued two weeks before and during the week of the event in Peoria, which resulted in the "best media coverage that disc golf has ever received in Peoria" and included all three television stations and the local newspaper.

Greenville, North Carolina had a clever format. There were no divisions, and golfers could purchase up to five $1.00-mulligans per hole. The second round was doubles with teams formed by the highest score with the lowest, then the second highest with the second lowest, until everyone had a partner.

At Happyland Park in WInnipeg, where it was a balmy 14° with 22 inches of snow, the fun-loving Manitobans had their traditional Silly Hat Contest and a Ring of Fire in which those with more years of DG experience shot from further away.

The Jasper, Arkansas club claimed they had the most fun because, "We got to play one of the best courses in the nation and enjoyed some of the most beautiful scenery as well. Being up at an elevation of 500 feet or higher is pretty awesome. The dinner and the poker games were all part of our great fun."

Holly Springs, Mississippi had the most fun because, "You couldn't have asked for better weather for an Ice Bowl. Even though we didn't have ice or snow that would have made it authentic, we didn't have to be bothered with bulky clothing to keep warm. Everyone's cheer was enhanced even more with the warm weather, and their donations to the charity reflects just exactly how 'warm' they were."

Anchorage, with 26 players (including five women), had its largest turnout for a charity event ever, even though the day started at -5°.

In Victoria, Texas, the day started nicely around 64° with a light SW wind and peaked at 70° around noon, when a "Norther" blew in mid-second round, dropping temps by the end of the round to 38°, with a wind chill of 18°.

South River, Ontario had two dogsled teams running the course (across and up fairways and right past baskets—talk about pressure putting! Those who had finished their rounds could hop in the basket, mush around the course to watch and possibly, distract others!

Vadito, New Mexico's Tortoise and Hare Relay featured teams playing alternate shot while on skis or snowboards. They also had something called the White Disc Challenge played in 11 inches of snow: first one in wins.

The Ice Bowl is gearing up now for 2006. We hope to raise $160,000 and have Ice Bowls in every state and Canadian province, Australia, New Zealand, and more European countries. In addition, we hope to bring more disc golf sponsors into the fold next year and start offering more incentives and prizes for fundraising. We thank this year's sponsors—Innova, Discraft, Gateway, Eagle Products, and Disc Golf World—along with Ice Bowl art director, John Dorn, for his great logo and cheerful dedication. One last plan is to secure outside-the-sport corporate sponsorship—possibly in the form of matching grants. This is new territory for us, so if you have expertise in this area and would like to help out, please write Rick Rothstein at rick@discgolf-world.com.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS OF ICE BOWL

- 1987 First Ice Bowl held on Sunday, January 18 in Columbia, MO. The first issue (March '87) of Disc Golf World News reports the first Ice Bowl and promises to promote the event nationwide in 1988.
- 1988 Ice Bowl Sunday II on January 24th draws 150 players in eight cities including Bowling Green, Kansas City, Cincinnati, and Raleigh.
- 1989 Ice Bowl becomes international with 13 players in St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada participating.
- 1990 Attendance grows to 753 players at 31 venues, up nearly 500 and 17, respectively, from 1989.
- 1991 Ice Bowl Sunday becomes Ice Bowl Weekend.
- 1994 Ice Bowl expands from a weekend to a two-weekend corridor. The number of players is 1,250 at 44 events, for the first time over 1,000. Indianapolis Disc Golf Club has a food drive for the Harvesters Food Bank and draws TV coverage from this connection. Thanks to the Indianapolis Disc Golf Club, "no whiners" is added to those not allowed at Ice Bowls—No Wimps! No Whiners! Ice Bowl merchandising begins.
- 1995 Ice Bowl expands from a two- to a three-week corridor. The first overseas Ice Bowl is held in Hoting, Sweden.
- 1996 Raising money or food for local food banks becomes a component of Ice Bowl. Food and dollars converted to meals determines the charitable winner. Houston raises $310, good for 2,130 meals.
- 1998 Nearly $20K and six tons of food is raised, good for 145,000 meals. Seven Ice Bowls raise over $1,000 cash each. There are 90 events drawing nearly 3,800 players.
- 2000 Ice Bowl corridor is expanded to include five weekends. Led by Arlington ($8K), Houston ($5K), and Charlotte ($3.7K), cash donations top $37K; total meals are 285,000.
- 2001 There are 113 Ice Bowls—first time over 100.
- 2002 Official Ice Bowl corridor now includes six weekends. While connecting to local charities that help fight hunger is still suggested, other charitable outreaches are included. Charitable efforts are expressed in money raised rather than meals. $65,000 is raised. There is a record turnout of 5,631 players at 137 events.
- 2003 Goal of $75,000 comes up short, but total events reach 154 with over 6,300 players.
- 2004 Goal of $75,000 is exceeded by nearly $13K. Charlotte sets new fund-raising record with $9,055.
- 2005 Ice Bowl's corridor officially extended to seven weekends. Records broken in these categories: most events, most players, and most money raised.

Ottawa Wins the First Canadian Ice Bowl Challenge

It began with an innocent e-mail to Donnie "Brasco" Annett, PDGA Provincial Coordinator for Alberta and Don "Splash" Lane, PDGA Provincial Coordinator for Ontario, but quickly it gained momentum as word of a cross-country Ice Bowl Challenge spread to other Canadian disc golf clubs. The idea caught fire in November 2004, and finally 12 locations signed up. A scoring system to determine the winner based on performance in five categories was agreed upon. The winner, the Ottawa Disc Golf Club, now has bragging rights for a year and has gotten this special notice in this magazine. In addition, this photo is also prominently displayed on the other clubs' websites. The Canadian disc golf clubs who participated in the Great Canadian Ice Bowl Challenge are encouraging other countries to get a challenge started for 2006! For more information on the GCIBC, please e-mail the coordinator, Clint Andersen at: finnathome@shaw.ca or visit the GCIBC at www.kdgc.com. — From a report by Clint Andersen

St. Cloud Disc Golf Club Becomes the All-Time Top Fundraiser for Ice Bowl

The St. Cloud Disc Golf Club started planning for Ice Bowl 2005 right after the 2004 Ice Bowl ended. They decided they would try a new fundraiser motivation program by offering these incentives: raise $100 or more and get a disc; $200 gets a disc and tee shirt; and over $250 gets a disc, a tee shirt, and a hand carved cottonwood basket, created by disc golf artist, Rick Rentz. It worked! Twelve players raised over $250 and a total of 30 out of the 64 players donated cash or food.

With a -27 below wind chill, 64 hardy golfers, from all over the state of Minnesota, arrived early to turn in money raised from family and friends. The top fundraiser was Mike Kukuk who raised $1,015 and received the coveted Top Fundraiser Plaque. Adam Gorres, the club's vice president, secured a grant from the Skalicky Foundation, which matched the other donations and boosted the grand total for the Caritas Food Shelf in St. Cloud to $13,366.02. Here are some other donations of note: $250 or more—Mike Kukuk, Rick Rentz, Jeremy Schlough, Travis Mick, Adam Blassing, Jason Krebsbach, Jeff Gradin,

John Grether, Steve Gradin, Todd Grundhoefer, Russ Stanger, Chad Kurzahls; $100 or more—Adam Gorres, Jason Klaskin, Greg Stein, Cody Moe, Ross Johnson, and Charlie Nichols; $50 or more—Aaron Cronquist, Tim Schreder, and Ken Wiggins. An additional $350 was raised during a silent auction featuring autographed discs from world champions and from noted disc golf artist John Dorn. —From a report by TD Rick Rentz, who responded to our request for an explanation of how they did it. ## Buy These Discs and Support Your Local Ice Bowl

The 2005 Ice Bowl totals were enhanced with the sale of these limited addition InnColor Starfires and Color Max Sparkle Buzzes. They remain on sale at www.discgolfworld.com: $40 for the Starfire and $25 for the Buzz, with $28 and $16, respectively, going to the Ice bowl charity of the buyer's choice. These will remain for sale until they are gone, and the donations will be applied towards the 2006 Ice Bowl charitable outreach. A total of $1,165 was donated this year. The funds were distributed to Ice Bowls in these towns: Alpharetta $35, Austin $100, Bethlehem $28, Blackfoot $28, Boise $28, Boyne City $28, Columbia $28, Corning $72, Durango $140, Fairfax $28, Fort Madison $16, Hattiesburg $28, Highland Springs $44, Honolulu $28, Joplin $28, Kansas City $100, Knoxville $16, Los Angeles $44, Petaluma $77, Portland $84, Raleigh $16, Rock Island $28, Saint Louis $28, Salt Lake City $28, Tucson $28, and Upper Sandusky $56.

RALPH VICKERS

Ralph Vickers of the Charlotte Disc Golf Club has taken Ice Bowl fundraising to a new level. While active in many other club activities, Ralph's primary focus has been Ice Bowl, where he has overseen the raising of $31,447 from 2002-2005. Ralph is a true catalyst, inspiring others to work with him. This year, he reports that these people raised some significant cash: Tripp Cole $2,000, Jim Whorley $1,000, Kenny Peace $600+, Beren Longstreet $600+, Stan McDaniel $500+, Doug Singleton $300+, Brian Jackson $300+, Dave Marchant $300+, Wit $260, MurrDog $200, Bernie Goetz $170, and a bunch of guys at $100. We salute Ralph Vickers for his ongoing dedication, hard work, and generosity.
